

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

- 1           1.     A method of processing an at least one channel input signal
- 2     comprising the steps of:
- 3           receiving the input signal in a signal processor having means for producing
- 4     at least one internally effected signal; and
- 5           combining the input signal and the at least one internally effected signal to
- 6     produce at least three output channel signals.

add a1